Introduction

1. In late April 2014, the “Orange Crush” conducted a shakedown of cells at Illinois River Correctional Center (Illinois River). Rather than pursue this shakedown as a legitimate security procedure, however, Defendants beat, sexually humiliated, and otherwise abused Mr. Ross (and hundreds of other prisoners), destroyed his property, and otherwise gratuitously inflicted punishment for the sole purpose of causing humiliation and needless pain. Plaintiffs seek damages for their injuries (and those of other similarly abused prisoners), and an injunction prohibiting Defendants from inflicting such abuse during future searches.

2. For example, Mr. Ross and other prisoners at Illinois River were subject to: a humiliating strip search in front of female officers and orders to prisoners to touch their genitals and then use the same hand to open their mouths; painfully tight handcuffing with their palms outward; orders to march from their housing units to the gym at the facility with their heads on the backs of the prisoners ahead of them in line so that one man's genitals were in direct contact with the next man's buttocks (referred to by the Orange Crush team as "Nuts to Butts"); violent attacks by Defendant Orange Crush Officers when prisoners broke that formation; and orders to stand in a stress position for several hours. Throughout the entire shakedown, Defendant Orange Crush Officers hurled epithets at the prisoners, chanted "punish the inmate," and told them that this was punishment for their sins.

3. Defendants' conduct at Illinois River was not an aberration. Rather, "Orange Crush" has conducted similar abusive strip searches and shakedowns at other Illinois Department of Corrections (IDOC) facilities, including Menard Correctional Center (Menard), Big Muddy River Correctional Center (Big Muddy River), and Lawrence Correctional Center (Lawrence). All of these shakedowns are the direct result of unconstitutional policies and practices in place at the IDOC to conduct periodic Orange Crush shakedowns so as to inflict pain and humiliation on prisoners entrusted to its care.

4. The painful and humiliating shakedowns inflicted physical injuries—including headaches, dizziness, wrist pain, and lower back pain—and emotional injuries—including severe embarrassment, fear, stress, trauma, and humiliation.

Allegations

40. In late April 2014, Illinois River was put on lockdown for approximately one week. During the lockdown, Defendant Orange Crush Officers conducted a shakedown of each house at the facility.

41. Upon entering each wing of the facility, Defendant Orange Crush Officers would yell loudly and began making loud “whooping” noises, and hitting their batons on the walls, tables, doors, and railings in the wing.

42. Two of the Orange Crush officers lined up in front of each cell in the wing, and yelled at the men in the wing to “get asshole naked!” Once the prisoners were undressed, they ordered each man to come out of his cell, one at a time. They ordered each prisoner to bend over while facing their cell (leaving their backs to the officers), and spread their buttocks and lift each foot off the ground.

43. Defendant Orange Crush Officers then ordered the men to turn around to face the officers, and to lift their genitals. Next, they were ordered to open their mouths with their fingers, using the same hands that they had just used to touch their genitals and buttocks. Prisoners who asked to wash their hands before putting them into their mouths were told to “shut the fuck up!” and were threatened with segregation if they did not comply. Some of the Defendant Orange Crush Officers present in the housing unit during the strip search were female.

44. When Defendant Orange Crush Officers finished strip searching the first group of prisoners in the cells, they ordered them to return to their cell and to get dressed in pants, overshirts, and shoes. They were told that they could not put on any underwear. While those men were putting on the permitted clothing, Defendant Orange Crush Officers repeated the same process with the other men in the cells.

45. Once all of the strip searches were completed, Defendant Orange Crush Officers ordered the men to face the wall (with their backs to the officers) and to “keep [their] fucking heads down!” Any prisoner who looked at the officers was slammed into the wall and told to “put [his] fucking head down!” Defendant Orange Crush Officers then handcuffed all of the men in a particularly painful way—with the palms of their hands facing outwards and their thumbs pointed up to the sky. The handcuffs were also extremely tight, causing injuries to the prisoners’ wrists, and eliciting complaints from the prisoners. They were told to “shut the fuck up!” and to “keep [their] fucking head[s] down!” and were threatened with segregation if they did not comply. Some of the prisoners asked to see a nurse or other medical staff. Their requests received the same response. All of the prisoners were handcuffed in the same way, regardless of whether they had a “front cuff” permit issued by medical staff (a medical order requiring correctional officers to handcuff men with their hands in front of them, rather than behind).

46. The men were ordered to line up and told to keep their heads down. Defendant Orange Crush Officers then lined up next to the prisoners, hitting their batons in their hands, and chanting “punish the inmate.” This went on for several minutes.

47. Once the chanting stopped, Defendant Orange Crush Officers grabbed the back of each prisoner’s head and slammed it violently into the back of the prisoner ahead of him in line. Defendant Orange Crush Officers ordered the prisoners to stand in such a way that one man’s genitals were in direct contact with the buttocks of the man ahead of him in line—referred to by Defendant Orange Crush Officers as “Nuts to Butts.” Mr. Ross’s head was slammed down so violently that his glasses broke and fell from his face. He suffered extreme dizziness and lightheadedness as a result.

48. Defendant Orange Crush Officers then shoved their batons in between each prisoner’s legs and jerked upwards, forcing the prisoner to straighten his legs while keeping his back bent over at a 90-degree angle onto the prisoner in front of him. This had the effect of forcing the men to place their genitals directly against the buttocks of the men in front of them. The officers then ordered the prisoners, using several epithets, to march in that formation from their housing wing to the gym at the facility. As the men began marching, the officers yelled that they didn’t “want to see any fucking daylight” between any of the prisoners in line.

49. The march from the housing wing to the gym was long and painful. Every time that a prisoner’s head came off of the back of the prisoner in front of him, officers responded with violence. Defendant Orange Crush Officers would slam the prisoner's head into the back of the prisoner in front of him. Some, like Mr. Ross, were violently yanked out of the line, and choked and pulled to the ground while other officers jabbed them in their backs with batons. Each time this occurred, the line would stop moving. The frequent starts and stops of the procession, as well as the inherent difficulty that prisoners had maintaining perfect contact with the prisoner ahead of them in line, forced several prisoners to break contact with the prisoner in front of them, causing them to be attacked by the officers.

50. When the procession of prisoners arrived at the gym, Defendant Orange Crush Officers ordered them to stand facing the wall with their heads down. They remained handcuffed. Many of the officers then left the gym to return to the housing wing. Defendant Albright, however, remained in the gym with the prisoners.

51. The prisoners remained standing in this stress position for several hours. During that time, Defendant Albright yelled at the prisoners: "This is punishment for all your sins!" He ordered the prisoners not to ask for medical attention because none would be provided, not to ask for water because none would be given, and not to ask to use the bathroom because they would be denied. He further told the prisoners that if their handcuffs were too tight, they would have to "be a man and take it or get dragged to seg!"

52. After several hours, the other Defendant Orange Crush Officers returned. They lined up the prisoners in the same formation as before, and again slammed their heads into the backs of the prisoners in front of them. They again ordered the prisoners to march in that formation back to their housing wing. Just as before, if a prisoner broke the line by lifting his head off the back of the person in front of him, Defendant Orange Crush Officers reacted with violence.

53. Defendant Orange Crush Officers laughed at and taunted the prisoners throughout the entire march to and from the gym.

54. When they at last returned to their housing wing, the prisoners found their cells had been “tossed.” Many of the prisoners found that non-contraband items had been taken, including legal documents and property that they had legitimately purchased from the commissary at the facility. Although IDOC policies require staff to complete “shakedown slips” to document any property taken from a prisoner, many prisoners did not receive any shakedown slips at all. Those prisoners who did receive “shakedown slips” found that they contained an inaccurate account of what had been taken and also that the slips obscured the officers’ names who had confiscated the property. Upon information and belief, this was done intentionally, as policy, to conceal the identity of Defendant Orange Crush Officers who had participated in the shakedown.

55. One of the prisoners asked an officer to get the warden, Defendant Greg Gossett. In response, the officer laughed and told him that the warden already knew all about what was happening at the facility.

56. The prisoners suffered physical injuries as a result of the shakedown at the facility, including severe headaches, dizziness, lightheadedness, blurred vision, and severe pain in their neck and back from the march. Many prisoners complained about these injuries to the officers during the shakedown and march, and upon return to their cells. They were all denied medical attention. Officers instead told them to “submit a grievance like you inmates always do.”

57. This was neither the first nor the last such shakedown conducted by IDOC officials. In early April 2014, Defendant Orange Crush Officers executed the same shakedown at Menard. In mid-May 2014, they carried out the same shakedown at Big Muddy River. In July 2014, they targeted Lawrence. At each of these facilities, Defendant Orange Crush Officers conducted the same humiliating strip search in front of female members of the Orange Crush team. At each of these facilities, they forced prisoners to march out of their housing units in a “Nuts to Butts” procession. Every time any prisoner in these facilities failed to comply with Defendant Orange Crush Officers’ unreasonable demands, Defendants reacted with violence. Throughout all of the shakedowns, Defendant Orange Crush Officers taunted, yelled at, and violently attacked prisoners solely to harass and humiliate them.

58. On information and belief, Defendant Orange Crush Officers executed their unconstitutional and cruel shakedown procedures at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard in 2014 pursuant to a policy or practice implemented, overseen, and encouraged by IDOC supervisors, including Defendants Yurkovich, Gossett, Roeckeman, Duncan, and Butler, among others.

59. On April 2, 2014, Defendant Butler sent an email to Defendant Gaetz about the shakedown and searches that had occurred at Menard. On May 14, 2014, a staff member from the Uptown People's Law Center wrote to Defendant Godinez, describing the abusive and humiliating shakedowns that were occurring in Southern Illinois. Despite this notice, neither Defendant Gaetz nor Defendant Godinez took any action to prevent the subsequent unconstitutional shakedowns from occurring.

60. To this day, IDOC prisoners—including prisoners housed at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard—continue to be subjected to shakedown procedures like the ones described in this Complaint. Despite several prisoners' repeated requests for the abuse by Defendants to stop, Defendants continue to maintain and encourage the above-described policy or practice.

Class Allegations

61. Named Plaintiffs Demetrius Ross, Jonathan Tolliver, Kevin Hamilton, Glen Verser, Zachary Watts, James Dunmore, and Ronald Smith seek to pursue claims both for themselves individually and for a class of others similarly situated (the Class) pursuant to Rule 23(b)(2) and 23(b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

62. Named Plaintiffs Demetrius Ross, Jonathan Tolliver, Kevin Hamilton, Glen Verser, Zachary Watts, James Dunmore, and Ronald Smith seek to represent a class consisting of the following people: All individuals housed at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard who were subjected to the 2014 shakedowns, and all prisoners confined to those facilities presently or who may be so confined in the future.

63. The individuals in this class are so numerous that joinder of all members is impractical. According to the IDOC's website, on July 1, 2014, there were 2,073 men housed at Illinois River, 1,878 men housed at Big Muddy River, 2,367 men housed at Lawrence, and 3,757 men housed at Menard.

64. There are questions of law and fact common to the claims of the Class. Among these common questions are:

- a. Whether the strip search as conducted at Illinois River violated prisoners' rights under the Eighth Amendment;
- b. Whether Defendants violated the constitutional rights of the prisoners by forcing them to march with their heads on the backs or buttocks of the prisoners ahead of them in line so that one man's genitals were in direct contact with the next man's buttocks;
- c. Whether Defendants violated the constitutional rights of the prisoners by violently forcing their heads into the backs of the prisoners ahead of them in line; and
- d. Whether forcing prisoners to stand in stress positions for several hours constituted cruel and unusual punishment.

65. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the Class. Mr. Ross was a prisoner at Illinois River, Mr. Tolliver and Mr. Smith were prisoners at Menard, Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Watts were prisoners at Big Muddy, and Mr. Verser and Mr. Dunmore were prisoners at Lawrence. All were subjected to the abusive and inhumane shakedown executed by Defendant Orange Crush Officers. Their treatment during the shakedown in late April 2014 is typical of other prisoners throughout Illinois River, and at the other facilities where the Orange Crush team conducted these abusive shakedowns. They seek to prove that the tactics employed by Defendants in conducting the shakedown violated the constitutional rights of the Class, and to obtain an injunction prohibiting Defendants from inflicting that abuse during future searches.

66. Demetrius Ross, Jonathan Tolliver, Kevin Hamilton, Glen Verser, Zachary Watts, James Dunmore, and Ronald Smith will fairly and adequately represent the interests of the Class. They have retained skilled counsel with experience in class actions, and constitutional and prisoners' rights litigation.

67. The questions of law and fact common to the Class predominate over any individual issues. In addition, a class action would be the fairest and most efficient way to adjudicate the Class members' claims.

COUNT I

42 U.S.C. § 1983 – Cruel & Unusual Punishment (Eighth Amendment)

68. Plaintiffs incorporate each paragraph of this Complaint as if fully restated here.

69. As described more fully above, Defendants inflicted unnecessary physical and emotional pain and suffering on Plaintiffs and other prisoners similarly situated to him. They did so intentionally, wantonly, and/or with malice.

70. Alternatively, Defendants knew the risk of harm that their misconduct posed to those prisoners and nevertheless acted with deliberate indifference in executing the shakedowns at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard.

71. As a result of Defendants' unjustified and unconstitutional conduct, Plaintiffs and other prisoners similarly situated to him suffered pain, emotional distress, and injuries.

72. The misconduct described in this Count was undertaken intentionally, with malice, and/or with reckless indifference to the rights of Plaintiffs and other prisoners similarly situated to them.

73. The injuries of Plaintiffs and other prisoners similarly situated to them were proximately caused by the policies and practices of the IDOC Defendants.

74. On information and belief, Defendant Orange Crush Officers executed their unconstitutional and cruel shakedown at Illinois River pursuant to a policy or practice implemented and overseen by Defendant Yurkovich and other IDOC supervisors regarding shakedowns at IDOC facilities. Accordingly, Defendant Yurkovich, who was responsible for supervision and oversight of the Orange Crush team, directly encouraged the very type of misconduct at issue in this case, failed to provide adequate training and supervision of Defendant Orange Crush Officers, and failed to adequately punish and discipline prior instances of similar misconduct. In this way, Defendant Yurkovich violated the rights of Plaintiffs, and other prisoners housed at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard by maintaining and implementing policies and practices that were the moving force driving the foregoing constitutional violations.

75. On information and belief, Defendants Greg Gossett, Zach Roeckeman, Stephen Duncan, Kim Butler, and Joseph Yurkovich had notice of widespread policies and practices of Defendant Orange Crush Officers and other members of the Orange Crush team, pursuant to which prisoners were subjected to unconstitutional and tortious acts of violence and humiliation, as described more fully above. Despite knowledge of these problematic policies and practices, Defendants Gossett, Roeckeman, Duncan, Butler, and Yurkovich did nothing to ensure that the prisoners at their facilities were treated humanely and in accordance with the rights afforded to them by the United States Constitution. These widespread policies and practices were allowed to flourish because Defendants Gossett, Roeckeman, Duncan, Butler, and Yurkovich directly encouraged the very type of misconduct at issue in this case, and failed to provide adequate training and supervision of Orange Crush team members. In this way, Defendants Gossett, Roeckeman, Duncan, Butler, and Yurkovich violated the rights of Plaintiffs, and other prisoners similarly situated to them, by maintaining and implementing policies and practices that were the moving force driving the foregoing constitutional violations.

76. The above-described policies and practices were able to exist and thrive because Defendants Gossett, Roeckeman, Duncan, Butler, and Yurkovich were deliberately indifferent to the problem, thereby effectively ratifying it.

77. The injuries of Plaintiffs and those similarly situated to them were caused by employees of the IDOC, including but not limited to the individually named Defendants, who acted pursuant to the foregoing policies and practices in engaging in the misconduct described in this Count.

78. Defendants continue to this day to perform shakedowns at IDOC facilities, including Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard, using the unconstitutional and cruel methods described more fully above. Accordingly, Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated to him, seek injunctive relief from this Court to stop the continuing constitutional violation.

79. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and all similarly situated prisoners, also seek actual and punitive damages.

COUNT II
42 U.S.C. § 1983 – Conspiracy

80. Plaintiffs incorporate each paragraph of this Complaint as if fully restated here.

81. Defendants reached an agreement among themselves to deprive the prisoners housed at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard (including Plaintiffs) of their constitutional rights and to protect one another from liability for depriving the prisoners of their rights, all as described in the various paragraphs of this Complaint.

82. In furtherance of the conspiracy, each of the co-conspirators committed overt acts and was an otherwise willful participant in joint activity.

83. The misconduct described in this Count was undertaken intentionally, with malice, and/or with reckless indifference to the rights of Plaintiffs and other prisoners similarly situated to them.

84. As a direct and proximate result of the illicit prior agreement referenced above, the rights of the prisoners at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard (including Plaintiffs) were violated and they suffered injuries, including pain, suffering, and emotional distress.

85. These injuries were caused by employees of the IDOC, including but not limited to the individually named Defendants, who acted pursuant to the policies and practices described above.

86. Defendants continue to this day to conspire to deprive Plaintiffs, and other prisoners similarly situated to them, of their constitutional rights and to protect one another from liability for the deprivation of those rights, all as described in the various paragraphs of this Complaint. Accordingly, Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated to them, seek injunctive relief from this Court to stop the continuing constitutional violation.

87. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and all similarly situated prisoners, also seek actual and punitive damages.

COUNT III

42 U.S.C. § 1983 – Failure to Intervene (Eighth Amendment)

88. Plaintiffs incorporate each paragraph of this Complaint as if fully restated here.

89. As described more fully above, Defendants each had a reasonable opportunity to prevent the violation of the constitutional rights of the prisoners housed at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard (including Plaintiffs) as set forth above had they been so inclined. They failed to do so.

90. Defendants' actions were undertaken intentionally, with malice, and/or with reckless indifference to the rights of the prisoners housed at these facilities.

91. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' misconduct, the rights of Plaintiffs, and other prisoners similarly situated to them, were violated and they suffered injuries, including pain, suffering, and emotional distress.

92. Plaintiffs' injuries, and the injuries of those prisoners similarly situated to them, were caused by employees of the IDOC, including but not limited to the individually named Defendants, who acted pursuant to the policies and practices described more fully above.

93. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and all similarly situated prisoners, seeks actual and punitive damages for Defendants' violation of the constitutional rights of the prisoners at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard.

COUNT IV
42 U.S.C. § 1983 – Prison Rape Elimination Act¹

94. Plaintiffs incorporates each paragraph of this Complaint as if fully restated here.

95. By executing and encouraging the shakedowns described more fully above, Defendants have violated and continue to violate several provisions of the Prison Rape Elimination Act National Standards, 28 C.F.R. § 115, promulgated by the United States Attorney General pursuant to the Prison Rape Elimination Act, 42 U.S.C. § 15607.

96. Defendants have conducted and continue to conduct cross-gender strip searches of Plaintiffs and all similarly situated prisoners, in violation of 28 C.F.R. § 115.15. There are no exigent circumstances present during these shakedowns to justify cross-gender strip searches.

97. Despite several prisoners' repeated reports of the sexual abuse and harassment that they have suffered and continue to suffer, Defendant Baldwin refuses to conduct any administrative or criminal investigation into the misconduct committed by Defendant Orange Crush Officers, in violation of 28 C.F.R. §§ 115.22 and 115.71.

98. On information and belief, Defendant Baldwin has failed and continues to fail to provide adequate training to Defendants and other IDOC staff on any IDOC policy prohibiting sexual abuse and sexual harassment, in violation of 28 C.F.R. § 115.31.

99. Defendant Baldwin refuses to provide a proper channel for prisoners to report the sexual abuse and harassment that they suffer to any public or private entity not part of the IDOC, in violation of 28 C.F.R. § 115.51. He similarly refuses to provide a proper channel for prisoners to report that sexual abuse and harassment privately within the IDOC.

100. Instead, when prisoners like Plaintiffs complain about the sexual abuse and harassment that they are suffering, their complaints are referred to the same Defendants who perpetrated the abuse and harassment, in violation of 28 C.F.R. § 115.52.

101. On information and belief, none of the Defendants has been disciplined for the sexual abuse and harassment that they perpetrated on Plaintiffs and other prisoners subjected to the same sexual abuse and harassment, in violation of 28 C.F.R. § 115.76.

102. Plaintiffs and other prisoners similarly situated to them have been denied access to medical care, in violation of 28 C.F.R. § 115.82.

103. In sum, Defendant Baldwin has grossly failed to protect prisoners like Plaintiffs from the sexual abuse and harassment that they have suffered and continue to suffer at the hands of the Orange Crush team. This abuse is precisely the same type of misconduct that the Prison Rape Elimination Act sought to eliminate. Accordingly, Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated to him, seek injunctive relief from this Court to require Defendants to comply with the Prison Rape Elimination Act National Standards.

COUNT V
Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

104. Plaintiffs incorporate each paragraph of this Complaint as if fully restated here.

105. In the manner described more fully above, Defendants engaged in extreme and outrageous conduct. Those actions were rooted in an abuse of power or authority.

106. Defendants' actions as set forth above were undertaken with intent or knowledge that there was a high probability that the conduct would inflict severe emotional distress and with reckless disregard of that probability.

107. Defendants' actions as set forth above were undertaken intentionally, with malice, and/or with reckless indifference to the rights of the prisoners housed at Illinois River, Big Muddy River, Lawrence, and Menard.

108. The misconduct described in this Count was undertaken by Defendants within the scope of their employment.

109. As a direct and proximate result of this misconduct, Plaintiffs, and other prisoners similarly situated to them, experienced injuries, severe emotional distress, and suffering.

Wherefore, Plaintiffs, Demetrius Ross, Jonathan Tolliver, Kevin Hamilton, Glen Verser, Zachary Watts, James Dunmore, and Ronald Smith, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated, respectfully request that this Court
