UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN
LAW SCHOOL

JOIN AN AUTHENTIC COMMUNITY OF UNIMAGINABLY TALENTED PEOPLE.

Our students converge on Ann Arbor from across the nation and around the globe. The real magic at Michigan Law is how extraordinary individuals form a community. The intimacy and energy of the Law School leads them to find close friends in their classmates—a development that few expect and that few law schools offer. At Michigan Law, students and faculty create an intellectually stimulating and close-knit community whose norms are rooted in respect and professionalism. Chalk it up to the vibrancy of Ann Arbor or the ambiance of the Law Quad:

MICHIGAN IS A PLACE THAT WILL SHAPE YOU AS A LAWYER AND A PERSON.

“ I have been fortunate to participate in two different clinics—the Juvenile Justice Clinic and Environmental Law and Sustainability Clinic. Both gave me underrepresented communities and to do some of the things I said I wanted to do in my law school application. Now that I'm at a law firm, I am glad I was able to scratch my public interest itch so early in my legal career. ”

THE CHANCE TO HELP

BE CAREER READY WITH A DEGREE FROM MICHIGAN LAW.

The proof lies in our expansive alumni network, whose members include managing partners at global law firms, public interest advocates, cabinet members and legislators in the United States and abroad, judges and justices on international and US courts, C-suite executives, academics, and more. Time and again, employers in all sectors tell us that they know hiring a Michigan Law graduate means hiring a smart, team-oriented leader. We will prepare you not just for your first job out of law school but for your entire career—and your global network of Michigan alumni and the resources of our Office of Career Planning always will be available to guide you, whatever your next step might be.

INCOME CAP FOR PARTICIPATION

(up to 175% of federal GS-11 pay scale)

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Michigan Law will cover, depending on your income, all or part of your required monthly federal loan payment so long as your loans are enrolled in one of the federal government's eligible income-driven repayment plans.

WHO IS COVERED?

In 2022–2023, most participants with an income of up to $85,474 (150% of federal GS-11 payscale) had payments fully covered. Those with incomes up to $99,720 (up to 175% of GS-11) received partial coverage on a sliding scale.

WHAT KINDS OF JOBS ARE COVERED?

Any job that is full-time, paid, and law-related (including jobs that aren't public interest!) will be covered.

WILL I BE REQUIRED TO REPAY ANY OF THE SUPPORT I RECEIVE IF I DON'T PARTICIPATE FOR A MINIMUM NUMBER OF YEARS?

No. You can participate for as little as one year or as many as 10 years. Those years do not have to be consecutive.

WILL MY LOANS BE FORGIVEN?

The federal government offers public service loan forgiveness for certain eligible public service jobs after 10 years of on-time payment. Our program can, depending on a graduate's job type, dovetail with Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF), though eligible employment for our program is broader than federal PSLF eligibility.

It will not surprise you that this program and federal loan repayment and forgiveness options are complicated, and we can't include every detail here. Some details are fine print, others are extra benefits. For more information, please visit our website or contact us at lawfinaid@umich.edu.

IMMERSE YOURSELF IN THE LAWYER'S LIFE.

The core of the Michigan Law experience is rigorous doctrinal training, complemented by the critical development of practical skills. The individualized instruction of our Academic Writing Support Program and our required Legal Practice Program will help you hone your expertise in legal research, analysis, writing, oral advocacy, and negotiation. Our 1L advocacy clinic allows second-semester 1Ls to practice before an administrative law judge even before their first summer jobs. And because Michigan is one of only a handful of states that allows students to represent clients in court after their 1L year, our upper-level clinical program is exceptionally robust; we guarantee at least one clinic to every 2L and 3L student. You also can contribute to a student-managed journal, lead a student organization, experience a full-time or part-time externship at a wide range of nonprofit and government employers, or devote yourself to a specific cause through our Pro Bono Program. Or all of the above!

DANIELA SANCHEZ, '22

Executive editor, Michigan Technology Law Review; Latinx Law Students Association; Peer Tutoring Program

“Through hands-on experiences like the Zell Entrepreneurship Clinic at the Law School and the Wolverine Venture Fund at the Ross School of Business, I GAINED A DEEPER UNDERSTANDING of how entrepreneurs think and what they value. Understanding my future clients and their businesses will not only help me identify legal boundaries but provide creative solutions to navigate those constraints. The JD/MBA pushed me to go beyond hypotheticals and what ifs.”

GAIN COMPREHENSIVE PERSPECTIVES ON THE LAW.

Michigan is not merely a top law school. It is part of a comprehensive research university that, over the course of two centuries, has earned a worldwide reputation for academic excellence and an unmatched commitment to discovery. Working with brilliant minds in business, engineering, medicine, public health, and more, we have taken a multidisciplinary approach to complex problem solving that addresses today's challenges and anticipates tomorrow's. To supplement their study of the law and its applications, we encourage our students to explore all that U-M offers—including through a formal dual-degree program or an ad-hoc one that you design, or simply by taking up to 12 credits outside the Law Quad in any field of graduate work. Or, in the Quad, take law classes from faculty with interdisciplinary approaches, including our experiential Problem Solving Initiative.

NICOLE SUNDERLIN, '24

Editor-in-chief, Michigan Journal of Law Reform;
Student-attorney, Pediatric Advocacy Clinic;
Executive board member, Student Rights Project

“ I have always been interested in how I can improve the communities I live in. At Michigan, I began thinking about that in a more global context. I also became interested in how regulation and policy can make life better for people. During my 1L summer, I did EU-related regulatory work in the Brussels office of a European law firm, and then I spent a semester at a globally recognized nongovernmental organization, UNICEF, through Michigan Law’s Geneva Externship program. Working overseas, I saw how Michigan has a GLOBAL REPUTATION. And I gained different perspectives on how I can use my legal training to make communities better. ”

STUDY AT THE PLACE THAT WROTE THE BOOK ON INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW.

Or more precisely—many books. Our faculty are globally recognized experts on all the major economies outside the United States as well as transnational challenges such as refugees and human trafficking. They have served on the European Court of Justice, advised the United Nations on prosecuting the Khmer Rouge and civil rights violators in Sri Lanka, and much more. But you won’t just learn about global law; you can experience it. Whether you’re participating in an international externship, interning in a global law firm or NGO, studying abroad in one of our established programs, or working in one of our clinics involving cross-border issues, your affiliation with Michigan Law will open doors around the world.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDY

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN LAW SCHOOL encourages interested students to pursue dual degrees in law and other areas of study, and provides significant opportunities for doing so. In obtaining a dual degree, students can benefit from the reputation and prestige not only of Michigan Law but of the University as a whole, with more than 100 top-rated schools and departments; act on their personal intellectual interests; maximize the interdisciplinary perspective of a Michigan Law education; broaden their career options; and enhance their attractiveness to potential employers. To make the dual-degree option even more realistic—and convenient—the Law School is located at the heart of the University campus, with the schools of business, social work, education, and public policy located within one block, and others within easy walking distance.

AT MICHIGAN, OUR PEOPLE AND APPROACH
SET US APART.

You'll receive exceptional teaching in the foundations of the law along with the practical training you need to make a lasting impact on society. But Michigan Law is more than academics and opportunity. Bonds formed here last a lifetime because our students and faculty believe that one person's success doesn't have to come at someone else's expense. Our collaborative pursuit of excellence makes us better scholars and lawyers and creates a law school EXPERIENCE THAT STAYS WITH YOU FOREVER.

So as you think about law school, consider not just where but how and with whom you want to spend the next three years.

Think Michigan.
